

Welcome to West Los Angeles Animal Hospital

WVCA
Exceptional Pet Healthcare

Take a tour of our new facility!

West Los Angeles Animal Hospital

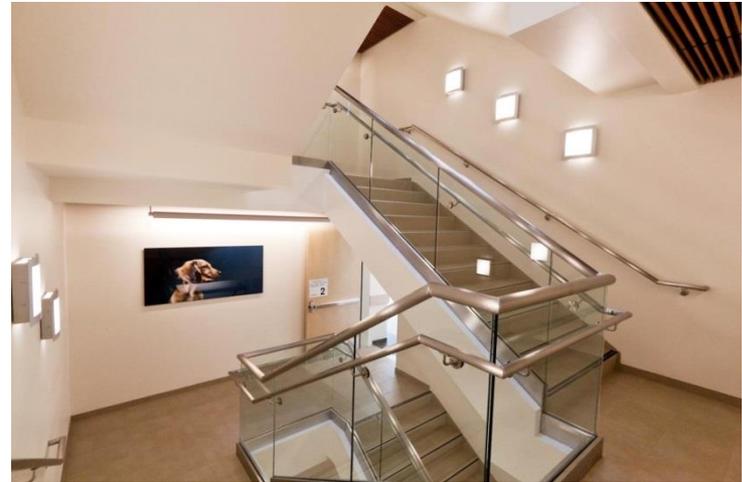

To meet our patients, clients and referring veterinary needs with unsurpassed medical expertise and advanced technology under one roof, in early 2013 West Los Angeles Animal Hospital moved to a brand new 42,000 sq. ft. facility at 1900 South Sepulveda Boulevard. The large, new 3-level hospital encompasses 9 state-of-the-art equipped surgery suites (including pituitary tumor surgery facilities), 16 examination rooms, 2 procedure rooms, MRI and CT equipment, a medical oncology suite (including our bone marrow transplant center), a radiation oncology suite housing a rare linear accelerator, a large physical therapy center including hydrotherapy treatment, in-house pharmacy and laboratory, and parking for over 230 vehicles, among many other features. With the opening of our new hospital, we are the largest and most technologically advanced small-animal hospital in the western United States, providing the most comprehensive medical and surgical care in virtually all veterinary specialties.

Client Reception

Our spacious reception and waiting areas provide our clients and patients with comfort and safety.

Exceptional Pet Healthcare

Our client/pet-friendly facility is easy to navigate and wheelchair accessible. There is convenient and ample parking for over 230 vehicles.

In-House Pharmacy

A convenient in-house pharmacy ensures that our patients quickly receive the medications they need to begin their treatment protocol.

Out-Patient Treatment

Several of our hospital's 16 Examination Rooms

Emergency Procedure Room

Emergency Treatment Area

Emergency Treatment Area

Emergency Treatment Holding Area

Dental Procedure Room with Midmark Dental Delivery System

Surgery Prep Area

Surgery No. 9 with C-Arm

Small Ward for Dogs

Large Ward

Varian 2100 Linear Accelerator

At West Los Angeles Animal Hospital, our commitment to our patients, clients and referring veterinarians means that our medical equipment is cutting edge and provides superior diagnostic and treatment capabilities. For example, our hospital is equipped with a state-of-the-art Varian 2100 Linear Accelerator to provide radiation therapy to pets with cancer. Used in human health care for treatment of cancer, a Linear Accelerator (or “Linac”) uses intense photons (a form of x-ray) and electrons to target tumors in pets with millimeter accuracy.

Toshiba Aquilion 16 CT Scanner System

West Los Angeles Animal Hospital utilizes Toshiba's Aquilion 16 CT scanner system, an advanced computed tomography (CT) scanner with enhanced features for greater patient comfort and safety, quicker exam times, and improved image quality for faster, more effective diagnosis and treatment. This is particularly important when determining the extent of injuries in trauma cases, where every second matters. The Aquilion 16 has the ability to acquire 16 anatomical slices at once, offering physicians more detailed images. Image quality is further enhanced with a fast scanning capability (400 milliseconds to rotate around a patient's body) that effectively reduces any image distortion from scanning moving organs, such as the heart and lungs. As a result, the scanner delivers more accurate clinical images depicting fine details, including minute coronary arteries, non-calcified plaque and small vessel structures, for significantly enhanced examinations.

Digital Radiography

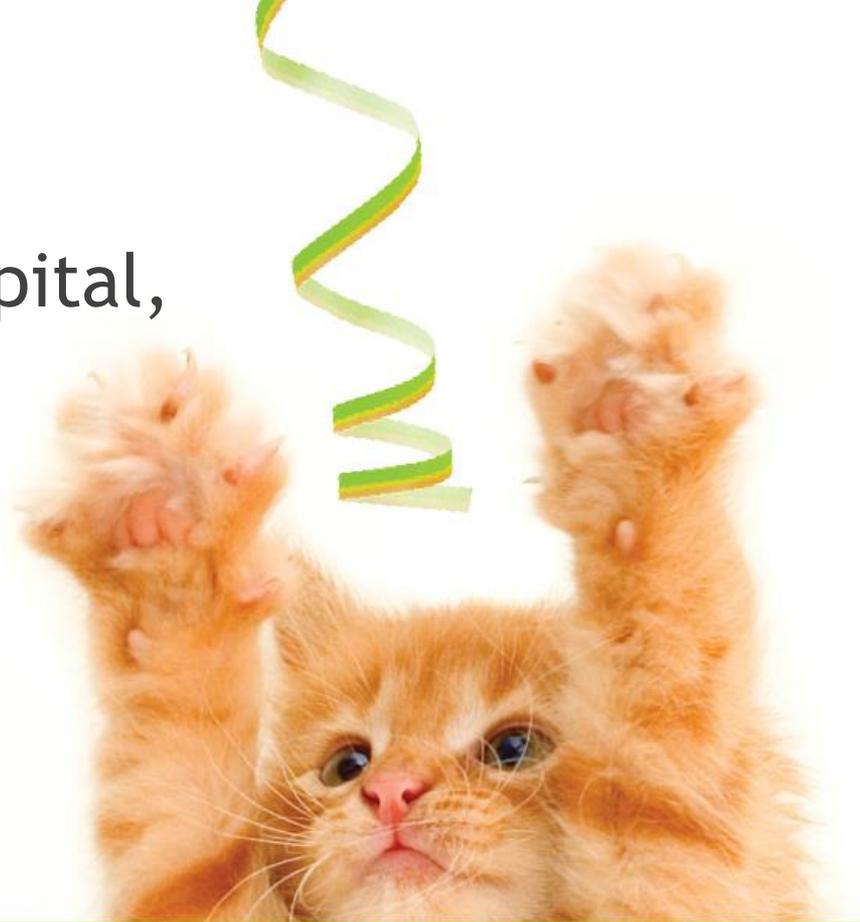

Pet Loss Support

As pet owners ourselves, the staff at West Los Angeles Animal Hospital understands that facing a pet's serious illness or the loss of a pet can be emotionally devastating. To provide pet owners with support to help them cope through these very difficult periods, our hospital offers Pet Loss Support Group Counseling at our facility. We are sensitive to our clients' needs and provide two client comfort rooms, where pet owners can spend peaceful time with seriously ill pets. We also offer a pet loss support library of publications on our website.

For more information about
West Los Angeles Animal Hospital,
please visit our website at
VCAWLASpecialty.com

Exceptional Pet Healthcare

West Los Angeles Animal Hospital
1900 S. Sepulveda Boulevard
Los Angeles, CA 90025
P 310-473-2951 | F 310-979-5400