

New England First Amendment Coalition FOI Award

Submissions due January 7, 2013

The New England First Amendment Coalition FOI Award is to be given to a New England journalist, pair of journalists or media institution for a body of work from calendar year 2012 that protects or advances the public's right to know under federal or state law. Preference will be given to applicants who overcome significant official resistance.

How to apply: Please submit your story or series along with a cover letter explaining the process of getting the story, why you believe it was a significant accomplishment and how it impacted the public. Works should be submitted electronically, though originals will be checked prior to notification to the awardee. Please submit all application materials to rosecavanagh.nefac@gmail.com. To ensure receipt, please inquire if you do not receive email confirmation.
