

3-A MECHANICAL SEAL STANDARD BEING FINALIZED

FSA stakeholder support of the development of what will be an ANSI accredited standard for Mechanical Seals used in food service has been on-going. This important document enables sanitary use of mechanical seal designs consistent with FDA requirements. The development of the standard is moving to finalization and should be published soon.