

Chinese Culture Class Helps Kids In Future
By Amanda Finn

Medea Creek Middle School has had Chinese culture in their school for three years, which is when it started with a grant from the government. The Chinese culture teacher, Mrs. yap, knows quite a lot about the history of Chinese culture. She has been teaching for twenty years part time and full, doing things such as teaching second grade, English as a second language, science, and being a substitute teacher. Mrs. Yap says she loves teaching Chinese because its fun, and a way to be creative.

Kelly Majam says, “I definitely want to take it next year so I can learn even more Chinese.”

Jake Bernstein also said, “ it’s the best elective yet, and I really want to take it again next year.”

Cole Nevel said “it wasn’t what I wanted to take this year but I’m certainly glad I got it as my elective, and next year you will see me taking it again.” All three kids sound very devoted to Chinese culture.

Mr. Benioff said that when Chinese class first came to MCMS, students were reluctant at first but now it is very popular. He also said having Chinese culture class at MCMS has been a great opportunity and a great option for learning different culture and being exposed to a new part of the world.

Having Chinese culture class here at MCMS was a wonderful idea, and I can tell both students and staff love having it here. Mrs. Yap is an excellent teacher and as Nevel says she teaches, “great things but harshly!” Having Chinese culture class at MCMS, is one of the best things ever.
