

MND Play Review

By: Dana Shiloni

On March 22 in Medea Creek Middle School, Mrs. Lavene's classes performed a play called "Midsummer Night's Dream". This play was performed in Mrs. Lavene's classroom. The classes are learning about Shakespeare so they acted out one of his famous love story comedy plays.

"It's a lot of fun!" said Orin Eliyahu, one of Mrs. Lavene's students who played the role of Moth the fairy.

"This is my 14th year doing the play and it is very fun for me to watch and for the kids to do," said Mrs. Lavene 7th grade Humanities teacher.

Paige Miller who is currently in Miss. Steinman's class and did not do the play said, "I like the play, and I think it's a great way to study for the Shakespeare test and have fun with it at the same time."

Mrs. Lavene said, "to choose what parts people got we had try outs and people tried out for the role they wanted."

"I have done the play before and had a lot of fun with it, but although some kids love doing this, other kids don't like to perform and I don't like to force them to," said Miss Steinman, Humanities teacher.

Eliyahu also said, "I didn't have trouble with this play, but other people did. We were allowed to have note cards as we were saying our lines which made it easier but for the most part we memorized our lines."

This play was about four humans who somehow end up in the fairy world and the fairies start messing up their love lives. At the same time there are foolish actors trying to put on a tragic play but end up making it more of a comedy. Overall this play is very fun, enthusiastic, and hilarious.
