

Witt/Kieffer has been retained by Sibley Memorial Hospital to assist the organization in the identification of a pool of candidates for the position of Vice President Medical Affairs and Chief Medical Officer. We would like to ask for your assistance in recommending colleagues that you feel would represent outstanding candidates for this exciting opportunity.

Sibley Memorial Hospital, full-service, 318-bed community hospital serving northwest Washington, DC, has a distinguished history of serving the community since its founding in 1890 and over time, the hospital has expanded to meet the needs of patients and physicians including the construction of the new $55M Medical Building in 2011, which added 62,000 square feet of physician offices, a three-suite outpatient surgery center and an imaging center with CT, MRI, radiography and Ultrasound. On June 25, 2013, Sibley broke ground on a new patient pavilion. The 'New Sibley' will include 200 spacious, all-private rooms, a new Emergency Department with fast tract facilities, a comprehensive decontamination facility, 18 labor and delivery suites, facilities for 4,500 newborn deliveries, a special care nursery, 50 beautiful post-partum rooms, a new Medical Oncology and 35-bay Infusion Center and new surgical facilities to include pre-and post-operative holding rooms. Sibley Memorial Hospital is a proud member of Johns Hopkins Medicine.

This is a unique opportunity for an accomplished physician executive to join a leadership team which is focused on innovation and quality in the delivery of a full range of health and wellness services in the nation's capital and to be a member of a leadership team in a community hospital within a system anchored by an internationally renowned academic medical center provides. The new VPMA/CMO will help spearhead new, progressive initiatives which mirror the mission and core values of Sibley Memorial Hospital as the organization positions itself to become the innovation leader in health services for the region.

The ideal candidate for the VPMA/CMO will be an innovative physician executive with a track record of positive working relationships with others seeking to ensure success in patient quality as well as a demonstrated ability in leading change in a complex environment. The position requires five – ten years of experience in clinical practice. The successful candidate should have management experience in a large healthcare organization or physician group. Prior experience in a community hospital is essential and exposure, beyond the training level to an academic environment would be beneficial. He or she will have had responsibility for leading clinical quality, patient safety improvement and medical management functions.
