

LynAnn King
Marketing Visionary, Strategist,
Publicist

Phone: (650) 550-0090
www.KingSingsPR.com
lynannking@kingsingspr.com

LynAnn King partners with successful small businesses and empowers entrepreneurs to deliver authentic marketing communications, special events promotions and media campaigns. She brings her visionary leadership in rolling out creative marketing campaigns that create visibility and media coverage. Her clients are business-to-consumer in the luxury and aspiration markets, national speakers, nonprofits, national conferences, published authors, celebrity personalities and other professionals.

LynAnn served as vice president of marketing for the San Francisco chapter of AICI for five years and was on the AICI international marketing committee to promote annual conferences. In 2005, she was honored as her chapter's member of the year. LynAnn has also served as a publicist for the Marin Association of Female Executives, Pinups for Purpose, Dine Around Program and Professional Women's Chamber Connection. King is currently a member of PRSA – Public Relations Society of America.

With a Bachelor of Science degree business marketing from San Francisco State University, LynAnn had a successful career in high tech, performing arts and luxury sales before launching her boutique public relations and marketing company.

About LynAnn

LynAnn is marketing and publicity expert who educates people how to use the media to establish their credibility, enhance their reputation, position themselves as experts, sell more products and services, and promote a favorite cause or issue. Her hobbies include entertaining and singing, resorting, exercise and time with her Chihuahuas.