

WOMEN in Business

NORTHCOAST

2012

PRINCE RUPERT B.C.

Women have come a long way in business. Today, they own one-third of all Canadian companies, paying the salaries of nearly two million people. The top 100 women entrepreneurs in Canada generate over $2 billion in revenue annually.

What's more, women now own increasing numbers of small and medium sized companies outside of traditional service sectors.

This year's edition of Northcoast Women in Business will also include editorial by local women, maintaining a truly Northcoast flavor.
