

Savannah Ocean Exchange Doubles Awards to US$200,000 for 2012.

SAVANNAH, GA., February X, 2012 - The Savannah Ocean Exchange, which is committed to finding solutions which inspire action to protect the globe's oceans, announced today that the 2012 purse for awards to competitors submitting practical and implementable solutions has doubled to US $200,000. Thanks to the continuing sponsorship of Gulfstream Aerospace and with the addition of new sponsor Wallenius Wilhelmsen Logisitcs, two prizes, each worth US$100,000, will be awarded.. Interested competitors may submit their actionable solutions at www.savannahoceanexchange.org, between February 1 and 11:59 p.m. (GMT) May 1, 2012, for preliminary review. Winners will be announced at The Savannah Ocean Solutions Exchange in Savannah, GA., September 19-22, 2012.

In 2011, competitors from North America, South America, Europe, Asia, Australia and the Middle East submitted entries. The top ten, selected by a global review panel, were invited to present at the Solutions Exchange. The winner, The Wave-Glider from Sunnyvale, CA-based Liquid Robotics, featured a revolutionary surface vehicle which uses the energy from wave motion to propel itself, thereby requiring no fossil fuel whatsoever. The Wave-Glider has been deployed on research missions exceeding well over 100,000 nautical miles since 2008.

The theme for the 2012 competition is Leap to Zero⁺, which encourages all people to generate economic growth and increased productivity while reducing, ideally to zero, the use of non-renewable resources and waste.

In 2012 there are two Solution submission categories. Entrants will choose one of the following categories to compete in: (1) Monetary Awards and (2) Excellence Awards. Solution Creators in need of financial support can submit Solutions to compete to be one of the top 15 solutions selected to present and be showcased at the Solutions Exchange where invited delegates will select the winners of the Gulfstream Navigator Award $100,000 and Wallenius Wilhelmsen Logistics Orcelle Award $100,000. Corporations and organizations that wish to showcase their best in class solutions can apply and compete to be one of 50 to display in our LEAP TO ZERO⁺ Showcase. The top eight Solutions selected by the global review panel will receive Excellence Awards and be invited to present at the Solutions Exchange.

A global solutions review panel of multi-disciplinary experts will review all applications passing pre-screening. Finalists will present to a distinguished gathering of 350 corporate, non-profit, academic and public policy leaders at the Solutions Exchange. To
