Live the Dream. Share the Dream.

Dear Shaklee Family,

We all start out in life believing that almost anything we can imagine is possible. But at some point, too many of us stop dreaming and believing we can create the life we want for ourselves and our families. In Shaklee, our mission is to help you change that—for yourself and the people you care about.

Shaklee invites you to dream again.

Do you remember your dreams? How close are you to realizing them? In our 50-plus years, Shaklee has helped hundreds of thousands of people achieve better, healthier lives—and the independent lifestyle everyone dreams about. And today the dream is even bigger, even better.

We have just announced the most attractive, compelling, and achievable new rewards program in our history. We call it The Dream Plan because it can inspire you to start dreaming again—and it can help you build the life you've been envisioning by sharing that dream with others.

What have your dreams been? A new car every few years? The ability to travel with your family to exotic destinations, all expenses paid? The chance to make a living by making a difference, helping people and the planet become healthier? What about the opportunity to build a long-term residual income that can support your family today, tomorrow, and for generations to come? All of these are within your reach.

Shaklee now has the most powerful career-income opportunity in our industry. We are excited to share it with you—and that you can now share it with others.

Please join me in sharing this message with everyone. Together, we can and will make a difference for the millions of people who have forgotten how to dream, and in doing so, become the largest force for social change in the world.

Warmest regards,

Shaklee Invites You to Dream Again...

Live the Dream

With all the tough news about the economy, most of us have scaled back our expectations for what we can earn—and even what kind of life we can have. We've given up our hopes for ourselves and, in some cases, even what we hope for our children.

Shaklee offers you the chance to reclaim your hopes and dreams for the future while making a difference in the lives of your family and your communities—all while earning cash, even a career income, as well as cars, trips, and other rewards!

Cash

Earn money when you share Shaklee products with others and when they join you in building a new Shaklee business.

Cars

As you share with more and more people and grow your customer base, you can reach Business Leader status. When you help one other person do the same, and increase your volume, you become eligible to earn a monthly car payment!

Trips

Throughout the year, you'll be assigned points for activities that grow your business—such as sponsoring new business partners. When you earn enough points, you'll earn fabulous trips to exotic locations—with expenses paid by Shaklee!

Stay-at-home moms, teachers, policemen, students—people from all walks of life are making their dreams come true with Shaklee.

"With Shaklee, I've been able to stay at home with my children for the last 19 years, and when my husband lost his job a couple of years ago, our Shaklee income provided for the whole family."

Lisa Smith,
Senior
Executive
Coordinator,
Indiana

$81,011.28*

"When I was in Corporate America, I was earning a great living—without a great life. I was a slave to an all-consuming career. Now Shaklee has given me my freedom and my family. And instead of others dictating my future, I get to create it myself."

Zal Fink,
Key Coordinator,
California

$78,781.53*

"It is as thrilling to earn a Shaklee incentive trip as it is to go. Once we are on the trip, we get to relax and take in the rewards of our work while our business is still growing back home. Shaklee has taught us how to travel well, and it something we now look forward to each year."

Pam & Alan
Hoffmann,
Key Coordinators,

Step 3

Every time you advance in rank, repeat the process! Now you're building a team, earning up-front cash, creating residual income, and continuing to advance—and now the fun begins!

Building a Shaklee business puts you in the driver's seat! When you decide to build a Shaklee business, you control the pace at which you grow and you reap the rewards for your hard work and commitment!

"Commitment drives action, and it's an important factor in success. After attending the 2009 Shaklee Global Conference, we were excited about the possibilities for our business and we committed to several goals that we started working on right away. We have learned that if you do not commit to a plan and put that plan into action right away, your enthusiasm gradually fades. So it is important to turn the excitement into action as soon as possible. That means visualizing what you want and making a plan of action to achieve it."

Senior Coordinators, Illinois

Blueprint for Success

R. Dean Aldridge,
FastTRACK Executive
Coordinator,
Washington

R. Dean Aldridge began with Shaklee in July 2009. Seven months later he began qualification for Executive Coordinator in the FastTRACK accelerated career path, a full eight months ahead of schedule, and more than quadrupled his income in that time.

“We needed to redesign our lives and come up with a blueprint for success that worked for us, where we could do well, feel good about it, and touch some lives along the way.”

I came from a lower-middle-class background and saw my parents struggle to make ends meet. Perhaps because of the way I grew up, I always had an entrepreneurial spirit. When I was in high school, I formed a DJ company with some friends and we hired ourselves out for parties in the area. But I was a pretty talented baseball player and I thought baseball would be my ticket to the life I wanted. When I lost my athletic scholarship, however, I had to look for a new way to achieve my dreams.

By age 20 I was selling insurance and making a lot of money, but it was HARD work—I was always competing for the next auto or home owners’ policy. Then I moved to the corporate side and built several large sales teams, but I realized that I was stuck in Corporate America.

When we learned about Shaklee, we quickly discovered that Shaklee was special—special team, special company, and a special cause. My wife, who is a naturopathic physician, looked at the science and saw just how strong Shaklee products were. We saw that Shaklee was the perfect mix. With Shaklee, we could help others and earn a living along the way without cheating our family.

Between October 2009 and May 2010, FastTRACK Coordinator Tammy Ale of New York promoted to Business Leader and advanced to two higher ranks. She also grew her Shaklee income sevenfold over that time. After owning a traditional “brick and mortar” business for 25 years, Tammy shares how she’s living her dream with Shaklee.

My first experience in Shaklee was with the Cinch® Inch Loss Plan. Later, I added other Shaklee products and started to see the difference in my health.

When my upline told me I didn’t have to work seven days a week anymore and had the potential to begin earning a career income quickly with Shaklee, I jumped in! I love that I can fit Shaklee around my life instead of fitting my life around my work.

I now have time and money to spend on myself and my family. I am learning for the very first time what it is to have “balance” in my life.

Building an international business. Helping each of your children purchase their own homes. Realizing financial independence. These new Shaklee Master Coordinators show what is possible when you allow yourself to dream.

When we joined, Shaklee was renewing its focus on global expansion, and the prospect of being involved in that growth was very attractive. Using simple networking techniques, we've developed dozens of Business Leaders all over Taiwan and China. We currently spend about 70% of our time living and building in Greater China and we love it! Our 4-year-old son, London, attends a local Chinese preschool in Beijing, where he is learning language and culture.

Ultimately, we are in the PEOPLE business. We've always believed happiness and fulfillment come from developing friendships that supersede business, and that teamwork is the core of success.

"Growth comes from one thing: helping many others accomplish their dreams. If you help them create and execute a plan to achieve their aspirations, your team will grow."

The Shaklee opportunity in China is massive, and it's exciting to know we'll have the chance to travel the world as Shaklee continues to expand.

When I first learned about Shaklee products, no one ever shared the Shaklee income opportunity with me. Later on when I met my upline, she presented the whole picture of Shaklee to us, and under her careful guidance, we promoted to Director within four months of sponsoring. Later, I would be reminded of her systematic approach—presenting the whole picture, following up, sponsoring and then getting us trained—and it would prove to be the key to reaching Master.

The freedom that came with being in control of my own financial destiny was a huge motivator to me. I never wanted to have to depend on anyone to provide for my family, and thanks to Shaklee, I have the ability to create the income I want. But Shaklee has given me more than money... it's given me a better life. My family and I enjoy better health and Shaklee has given me a mission—to help others experience the same kind of freedom that I have!

“The freedom that came with being in control of my own financial destiny was a huge motivator to me.”

I was first introduced to Shaklee in 1971 while working part time in a local cannery. At the time, three of my four children were enrolled in private school. My husband had a good job, but shortly after I sponsored with Shaklee, he had an accident and subsequently became permanently disabled. My Shaklee business helped me provide for my family and keep my children in private school to give them a better future.

After only two years in Shaklee, I was able to purchase my dream home—four bedrooms, three baths, and three living rooms all on a corner lot! Later, my Shaklee business allowed me afford so many things for my family, including commercial real estate in Santa Barbara, a bridal shop for my daughters to manage, and down payments for each of my children to purchase their own homes!

“With Shaklee, I’ve also been able to build my business across borders and I have a large team in Mexico.”
