

Larry J. Hackman Research Residency Program, NYS Archives

The New York State Archives and the Archives Partnership Trust will award grants for qualified applicants to pursue research using historical records in the New York State Archives. The Larry J. Hackman Research Residency Program is intended to support advanced work in New York State history, government or public policy by covering research expenses. It also encourages public dissemination of research products. Applicants must conduct original research at the New York State Archives.

Eligibility

Academic and public historians, graduate students, independent researchers and writers, and primary and secondary school teachers. Projects involving alternative uses of the Archives, such as research for multimedia projects, exhibits, documentary films, and historical novels, are welcomed. The topic or area of study must draw on government records in the New York State Archives.

Funding

Award amounts range from $100 to $4,500 to cover the costs of travel, lodging, meals, photo duplication, and other research-related expenses, depending on the length of stay at the State Archives and research expenses.

Deadline

Applications must be postmarked by January 15, 2013.

Proposals will be reviewed by a panel of scholars and archivists familiar with the State Archives and its holdings. Applicants will be informed of the panel's decision by May 15, 2013.
