Favorite PVI Basketball memory this season so far

- The way Teresa scared a girl throwing the ball in on the press defense.
- All the nicknames each teammate is given.
- The way everyone calls Nikki "Patrick Holloway" and how Coach Leanne introduced her to him

Favorite Basketball Memory Ever:

- My very first basketball game ever in 2nd grade- I could not stop jumping up and down for all of warm ups
- When I broke my hand in 6th grade, the very first game of the season in the first five minutes and I missed the entire season and had to have surgery. Ironically, the girl who broke my hand used to be my best friend.
