

About Deanne Kelleher

Deanne Kelleher is in the business of organization and optimization. She is the founder of kAos Group, and author of the Core Four™ System. Deanne draws on her innate organizational instincts and her keen understanding of people to help clients identify and implement needed changes to improve efficiencies and maximize growth potential, in both their professional and personal lives. She is a Silver Leaf member of the Professional Organizers of Canada, and is a certified trainer with Personality Resources International in the Four Ways™ system. Her work spans multi-national corporations and small businesses from a wide range of industries and business sectors.

Speaker and Educator

Deanne is sought-after speaker and trainer, as well as part-time faculty at Toronto's Centennial College. Always educational and entertaining, Deanne tailors presentations for each engagement to ensure that her audiences are presented with the most appropriate information and relevant insights catered to their specific needs. She shares her personal and professional experiences and observations about how functional, healthy workplaces are designed, and how individuals can embrace productivity and be highly successful while enjoying a balanced life. Deanne has been featured in the Toronto Star, the Globe and Mail, CBS Money Watch and on City TV's City Line.

About kAos Group

kAos Group is a Toronto-based professional and personal organizing consultancy. At kAos Group, we counsel clients to lift the weight of what isn't working by providing practical solutions to optimize productivity, increase profits and enable individuals and teams to move forward more easily.

As the leader and key driver behind kAos Group's vision and patented Core Four System™, Deanne develops systems and processes that help individuals and companies uncover new sources of time and money in their businesses and day-to-day lives. She works closely with clients to help identify inefficiencies — the clutter and disorganization that prevents professional and personal growth — and helps them streamline their business and personal lives to reduce stress and increase productivity.

Deanne's hands-on and practical, energetic and understanding approach is the cornerstone of kAos Groups success, and her innate organization instincts help get individuals and organizations to new levels of high functioning and high performance.
