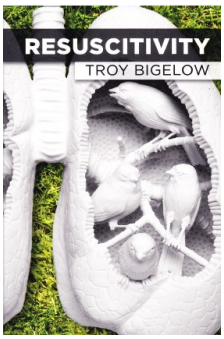
Meet the Author:

We Laughed, We Cried

Friday, April 26, 6:30 p.m.-8:00 p.m. and
Thursday, May 9, 6:30 p.m.-8:00 p.m.
Close Community Room.

Dr. Trina Chapman-Smith of Auburn will discuss her new book. It will be available for purchase and will be signed by the author. More than 50 short stories in We Laughed, We Cried- The Days that Shaped a Doctor describe patient tales Dr. Chapman-Smith has found especially inspiring, intriguing, or unusual. "My intent is to showcase the patient as the central focus of a physician's life and to portray with candid insight the impact all of these amazing people have had on my growth, both in my life's work and in my personal life," Chapman-Smith said. She describes the stories as ranging from "poignantly tear-jerking to outrageously humorous."

Dr. Chapman-Smith previously published a memoir, 33 Days at Lead Walls, that detailed her fight against breast cancer.



Meet the Author:

Resuscitivity

Monday, May 6, 6:00 p.m.-6:30 p.m.
(Meeting with Creative Writing Group)
6:30 p.m.-7:30 p.m. (Open to the Public)
Close Community Room

Resuscitivity is Troy Bigelow's first full-length collection of poems. Bigelow, winner of the Transcontinental Award, worked for more than a decade as a blue-collar factory worker. After being laid off on Christmas Day of 2006, he earned a MA in English from Indiana University at IPFW in 2009. Currently, he teaches writing and literature at Ivy Tech Community College, Northeast. Books will be available for purchase and will be signed by the author.

FREE Computer Savvy Seniors Class

Saturday, May 4, 11:00 a.m.-4:00 p.m.
Learning Lab, Willennar Genealogy Center

Hands-on instruction is slow-paced and relaxed, with lots of review and time for student questions.

Topics covered include: computer jargon, how to use a taskbar, working with Windows 7, files/folders/drives, recycling on the computer, using a mouse, personalizing a computer, download/upload/install/uninstall and how to get additional computer help.

To join this class, register at the Information Desk, 925-2414 extension 120. For additional information about the class or to have questions answered, call extension 505.

Tablet Time: Brain Games & Socrative

Monday, May 6, 11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m.
Close Community Room

Reports show that keeping active brains help ward off Alzheimer's disease and other early onset memory problems. Library staff will share apps for both iPad and Android tablets to help exercise that gray matter and keep "sharp as a tack" into the Golden Years. Please register at 925-2414 extension 120.

Computer Savvy Seniors: Overview of Gale Databases

Wednesday, May 8, 11:00 a.m.-12:30 p.m.

LUNCH BUNCH:
Tuesday, May 7, 12:00 p.m.-1:30 p.m.
"Copyright for the Genealogist"
One subject which is always good for a passionate discussion among genealogists is the issue of copyright laws as they pertain to genealogy. Come discuss what is protected and what is not protected, whether in book form or on the internet.
Tuesday, May 21, 12:00 p.m.-1:30 p.m.
"Tiptoeing Through the Graveyard"
Cemeteries are living lessons in history. Much can be learned about the person who has died, as well as their family. Although not a primary information source, gravestones are an excellent source of dates, birthplaces, maiden names, etc. Come explore all the possible information that can be gathered from visiting the cemetery.
If possible, please provide help on identifying the circled men in the picture. Please contact genealogy center staff by phone at 925-2414 extension 400 or by e-mail at genealogy@epl.lib.in.us.

It is baseball season! Stop by the Genealogy Center and hit a "home run" with research. Staff is ready to "coach" genealogy enthusiasts through the use of these subscription databases: Ancestry.com, Origins.net, Fold3 and Heritage Quest.
