Dear FPRA Conference Attendee:

Welcome to the 74th Annual Conference of the Florida Public Relations Association – A Treasure Trove of PR Strategies and Tactics!

This event will showcase the very best in professional development opportunities for public relations professionals throughout the state of Florida. It's also an opportunity to close out another fantastic year for FPRA by celebrating 74 years of enhancing the profession while also "Discovering the Treasures of FPRA." Over the next few days, we will learn from some of the best and brightest in our field, picking up informative and memorable tips from each speaker along the way. As with every FPRA conference, I am certain you will leave feeling more knowledgeable and inspired about practicing your chosen profession of public relations.

It takes many, many hours of dedicated work and creativity to put on an event of this magnitude and caliber, and I'd like to personally thank our Vice President of Annual Conference Paul Ramey, APR and his committee for their enthusiasm, leadership and professionalism. I'd also like to thank our Co-Executive Directors, Christopher Carroll, APR, CPRC and Cheray Keyes-Shima, APR, CPRC, and their team for always keeping us on track to ensure our organization continues to enjoy an outstanding annual conference.

In 1938 the founding members of FPRA understood the value that public relations could bring to all organizations in Florida. They also knew that a collective voice was necessary for the profession to thrive, develop enhanced skills, and gain needed credibility. Our FPRA founder, Col. John Dillin, was always a strong advocate for our profession. He never missed an annual conference because he felt it was important to stay up-to-date on the latest happenings in the profession.

Whether this is your first annual conference or you just cannot remember what number it is, I know you will be pleased with the lineup of speakers. You have made a wise investment of time and resources to enhance your personal and professional development. I encourage you to take every opportunity to participate, interact with speakers, and enjoy the chance to network with your colleagues from throughout the state.

Let's start "digging" to discover this Treasure Trove of PR Strategies and Tactics, and let us not forget to take the time to celebrate the jewel that is FPRA!

You are Treasured,

Melanie Mowry Etters, APR, CPRC, CPM
FPRA State President

August 5, 2012

Welcome to the Renaissance World Golf Village Resort in St. Augustine. It has truly been an honor to serve as your Vice President for the Florida Public Relations Association's 74th Annual Conference. Though at times the commitment seemed overwhelming, the opportunity to work with and receive assistance from so many members across the state has been an extremely rewarding experience.

While obviously I may be a little biased, I believe our complete speaker line-up from top to bottom is one of the strongest we've had in a number of years. I hope the next three days will inspire and motivate you, and that we all discover public relations strategies, tactics and other "treasures" we can take away from this meeting in our nation's oldest city.

In addition to the excellent professional development and educational opportunities our speakers will provide, I hope you also are able to network with other professionals, as well as explore and experience the area's rich history and unique landmarks. The free educational outing to the Fountain of Youth Archaeological Park Sunday afternoon (pre-registration required), as well as the option to explore the city on your own Monday evening, are just two of these options.

Our Association's Annual Conference is the blending of innovative ideas from many motivated and dedicated individuals. While I was honored to take a lead role, it is the contributions of many that made it possible. I especially want to thank the wonderful staff at KSC, Inc., whose expertise, hard work and intimate knowledge of this event allows for the planning process to run smoothly.

I also want to extend my sincere gratitude to this year's Annual Conference Committee: Terri Behling, APR, CPRC; Leeann Bright, Wendy Crites Wacker, APR; Joe Curly, APR, CPRC; Terrie Glover Ard, APR, CPRC; Jeff Nall, APR, CPRC; Jennifer Fennell, APR; Chris Gent, APR, CPRC; Kathleen Giery, APR, CPRC; Courtney Holmes; Elise Lipoff Ramer; Jennifer Moss, APR, CPRC; Vivian Myrtetus, APR; Rick Oppenheim, APR, CPRC; Roger Pynn, APR, CPRC; Jay Rayburn II, Ph.D., APR, CPRC, Fellow PRSA; and Karen Smittle, APR, CPRC. Their dedication, wisdom, experience, knowledge and encouragement played key roles in planning this year's event.

If you have questions or concerns during your stay, please let me know. I hope you enjoy FPRA's 74th Annual Conference and discover a treasure trove of PR strategies and tactics.

Sincerely,

Paul E. Ramey

Paul Ramey, APR
Vice President, Annual Conference

General Session A

Achieving Peak Performance

Lou Heckler, Motivational Speaker

Lou Heckler was voted one of the favorite speakers by meeting planners as listed in Meetings and Conventions Magazine, July 2010. In this session, Heckler will detail five action steps that all top achievers commit to daily. Heckler, who has a new segment on public television's Nightly Business Report, believes ordinary people can do extraordinary things by following tried and true practices of outstanding business people who have gone before them. He will share stories of these remarkable people who have crossed his path and explain how you can walk behind them and take your career and your life to a new level.

10:15 – 11:15 a.m.

Breakout 1A

28 Steps to Socializing Your Online Newsroom

Steve Momorella, Owner and Founder, TEKGROUP International

More than 75 percent of people learn of their news through social media and visit a corporate website or online newsroom for more information. About 90 percent of people on social media channels use Twitter or Facebook as a primary source of news and information. Steve Momorella's presentation is a step-by-step guide on transforming the online newsroom into a social newsroom, including how to create and share compelling content and provide journalists and news consumers with the tools they need to find your latest stories. Participants will learn techniques they can implement immediately AND with results.

10:15 – 11:15 a.m.

Breakout 1B

What Today's Employees Want from Workplace Communications

Ron Hess, President, Motiv8 Communications

In a nation where tweets, texts and Facebook posts have become integrated into daily life, what are the implications for how organizations communicate with employees in the workplace? This presentation will examine how organizations are addressing 'new age' communication challenges and combining old and new methods to inform, engage and motivate workers. This presentation will also examine the critical role public relations professionals can play in shaping, focusing and managing workplace information programs and integrating them with external communications strategies.

10:15 – 11:15 a.m.

Breakout 1C

Extreme Makeover Home Edition: The Big Reveal!

April Schroeder, President and Creative Director, Marketing Mud

What would you do if challenged to raise $1 million in seven days to build a home, recruit thousands of volunteers to complete the project, notify the surrounding community and media ...AND maintain total secrecy to the future homeowner beneficiaries? This is exactly what Marketing Mud successfully accomplished while working with the popular TV show Extreme Makeover Home Edition. Hear an exciting PR case study on how Marketing Mud and Liquid Creative Studio created a community brand around this thrilling home build, generated social media buzz to gather volunteers and fundraise, and brought a community together to achieve this amazing feat!

Sponsored in part by the Treasure Coast Chapter.

Breakout 2A

The Difference Industry: A place for fresh thinking, growing investments and work that matters
Ann Christiano, Frank and Betsy Karel Endowed Chair in Public Interest Communications, and a Professor at the University of Florida, Department of Public Relations.

As private and public organizations become more sophisticated about the importance of messaging that achieves behavior and other types of change, there is an increased demand for talented communicators who want to work toward these objectives. Governments, foundations and non-profits are increasing their investments in strategic communications, which is creating new employment opportunities. We'll talk about the best examples from the field, and how they rely on evolving digital platforms to achieve results.

Sponsored in part by the Ocala Chapter.

1:45 – 2:45 p.m.

Breakout 2B

Using Social Media to Connect with Employees

Kathy Barbour, APR, Public Affairs Manager, Mayo Clinic, Jacksonville, Fla.

The Mayo Clinic is one of the most powerful brands in the world. For more than a century, word-of-mouth has led patients to the Mayo Clinic from everywhere. Social media, the most far-reaching communications revolution since Gutenberg's printing press, has made the word-of-mouth experience even more important. Today, Mayo Clinic is expanding its reach by accelerating its adoption of social media and helping other health-related organizations get started. Hear about examples of how social media tools transform health care and learn how you can use social media to do well by doing good. Learn why social media is a key to higher productivity, not a time waster to be blocked by IT.

1:45 – 2:45 p.m.

Breakout 2C

Crisis Diagnostics: Assessing Brand Damage. Restoring Brand Equity.

James Gregory, Founder and CEO, CoreBrand

Every company has a brand, regardless of whether or not it is tightly managed. Brands are not one dimensional and must be assessed using several criteria. An organization's brand plays a key role in growth and serves to confirm its financial well-being. This is never more apparent than during a crisis, when a company's brand is undoubtedly threatened or damaged. The questions are "To what extent?" and "What steps are necessary to restore its well-being?" The challenge facing C Suites – and the communications managers who advise them – is to evolve a more concrete understanding of what's at stake, with measurable indicators of how strategic responses to a crisis succeed or fail. In this session you will be among the first to hear new findings, based on original research as recently presented in an article in the Journal of Marketing Management, which provides our profession with quantifiable research that assesses brand damage and how to restore its equity.

3 – 4 p.m.

General Session B

PR is a Contact Sport

Jim Joseph, President, Cohn & Wolfe North America

An incredible brand experience is what turns ordinary products into beloved brands. Public relations and social media are taking an increasingly important role in shaping that brand experience. Learn how PR is shaping perceptions and building loyalty for brands.

4:05 – 4:25 p.m.

Dillin Keynote Address

Closing the Perception Gap

Oscar Suris, Executive Vice President and Head of Corporate Communications, Wells Fargo & Company

Executive Vice President and Head of Corporate Communications for Wells Fargo & Company, Oscar Suris will discuss what he calls the "perception gap" and how Wells Fargo has worked to close this gap by measuring how the company viewed customers and how customers viewed Wells Fargo. The insight gained from this exercise was the basis for a change in direction for Wells Fargo, which ultimately earned the company a Forbes cover story titled: Wells Fargo: The Bank that Works. In this session, you'll learn how customer insight, patience and ongoing customer relations efforts paid off for this financial services giant and how you can utilize PR as the discipline to influence outcomes with internal and external audiences.

Sponsored in part by the Central West Coast Chapter.

Grassroots Public Relations: Building Support, One Blade at a Time

Joe Hice, APR, CPRC, Vice President, Public Relations & Marketing, Moffitt Cancer Center & Research Institute

Potato, potato, potato. A sound that warms the heart of Harley fans, but a sound that almost went away until the motorcycle company mobilized grassroots support to help educate congress about motorcycle sound issues. Join Joe Hice as he discusses how the "power of one" helped save that syncopated Harley beat, loosed the reins of The Gator Nation and is bringing new vigor and focus to the Moffitt Cancer Center, one friend at a time.

9:45 – 10:45 a.m.

Breakout 3B

APR-Your Future, Your Career, Your Opportunity

Susan Ennis, APR, CPRC, VP Accreditation & Certification

APR is considered the mark of distinction for those who demonstrate commitment to the profession and its ethical practice. Currently, there are 5,000 public relations professionals worldwide who have earned this voluntary accreditation. Find out how you can join them at this session.

9:45 – 10:45 a.m.

Breakout 3C

Advertising. Making the Fun Last

Steve Smith, Founder and President, Markalyst Consulting Group

Twenty-five years ago, Steve Smith was tapped by a little-known car rental company wanting to launch its first consumer marketing initiative. He accepted the challenge and via effective advertising, Enterprise evolved into one of the nation's best-known brands that, at Smith's retirement, enjoyed category dominance with more than 1 million autos in service and $13.1 billion in annual revenue. Today, Smith is president of Markalyst Consulting Group. He will lead a fun and engaging examination of how research can help advertising teams consistently produce effective advertising, demonstrate accountability for their decisions, earn executive-level confidence ... and make the fun last, forever.

9:45 – 10:45 a.m.

Counselors' Network Breakout 3

A private, informal and interactive discussion with Oscar Suris. This session is open to Counselors' Network members only.

11 a.m. – Noon

General Session C

Storytelling, Media Relations, Reputation: Putting it All Together for Your Brand

Mickey G. Nall, APR, Fellow PRSA, Managing Director, Ogilvy Public Relations Worldwide Atlanta

For nearly 30 years Mickey G. Nall, APR, Fellow PRSA, has been developing award-winning national and regional campaigns for clients. As a leader of the one of the world's largest communications companies, he counsels major corporations, government clients and non-profits on delivering the brand promise. In his Storytelling, Media Relations & Reputation: Putting it All Together for Your Brand session, Nall invites audience members to focus on their brand's reputation. He'll demonstrate how to create your content, become a storyteller and engage your employees as advocates to succeed on the brand promise. Nall will bring it all together in an insightful and engaging presentation demonstrating that while the brand is the promise an organization makes to its stakeholders, reputation is how you live up to that promise.

12:15 – 1:15 p.m.

Lunch Time with the Tampa Bay Times

Sponsored by Counselors' Network (open to all attendees including students)

When Is It the Right TIME to Make A Name Change?

Bruce Faulmann, Vice President of Sales and Marketing, Tampa Bay Times

Get a behind-the-scenes look at the transformation of the St. Petersburg Times into the Tampa Bay Times from Times Publishing VP of Sales & Marketing Bruce Faulmann. This luncheon session features an intriguing story behind the name change, but also delivers a classic rebranding case study ... admitting that virtually every good opportunity one could imagine had all but fallen into place for Times Publishing.

1:30 – 2:30 p.m.

Breakout 4A

Who shows up when you show up? Presentation is Everything

Annetta Wilson, President of Annetta Wilson Media Training & Success Coaching

How would you know if you're turning people off? The way people perceive you can mean the difference between success and failure in business and your personal life. The risk of being misunderstood puts your reputation, business, job and relationships on the line. You CAN develop the ability to appear confident, comfortable and in control in front of an audience and behind a microphone. In this interactive session, learn the secrets to managing and projecting your personal brand, YOU. People buy you before they buy what you're selling.

Sponsored in part by the Volusia/Flagler Chapter.

1:30 – 2:30 p.m.

Breakout 4B

Get Attention for You, Your Company and Your Events

Shari Lynn Rothstein-Kramer, SLK Creative

While talented companies create incredible events, many don't know how to get the attention and media coverage they deserve. Learn how to use marketing and public relations strategies to get your company noticed, how to get attendees excited and through the doors, and how to get press coverage – before, during and after – your event. Learn effective methods of publicizing an event, when to get the word out, what is newsworthy, and so much more.

Sponsored in part by the Northwest Florida Coast Chapter.

1:30 p.m. – 2:30 p.m.

Breakout 4C

Foundations for Good Measurement

Patrick O'Donnell, Senior Project Manager, Ketchum Global Research & Analytics

Measurement should be at the core of public relations work – helping to shape programs and prove results – but it is something that for too long the industry had not standardized. That changed in 2010 when the measurement industry introduced a set of guidelines on how to measure programs called the Barcelona Principles. These guidelines include moving from outputs to outcomes and avoiding use of advertising value equivalents (AVEs). O'Donnell will discuss those principles, how to implement them and their implications for the industry.

1:30 – 2:30 p.m.

Counselors' Network Breakout 4

A private, informal and interactive discussion with Mickey Nall, APR, Fellow PRSA. This session is open to Counselors' Network members only.

2:30 – 2:50 p.m.

Chocolate Break

Sponsored in part by the Space Coast Chapter.

3 – 4 p.m.

Breakout Session 5A

Meeting the Challenge: Employee to Employer!

Joe Curley, APR, CPRC, Senior Corporate Communications Counsel, Universal Parks & Resorts, International

Becoming your own boss has risk and rewards. This interactive session will address your curiosity, fears and dreams about taking the major step and setting up your own business. Is it the end of regular paychecks or a windfall of revenue? How will I find new clients and how can I do all the work myself? Will billing invoices and bookkeeping eat up all the professional PR time? These and many more probing questions about how set up shop and work on your own will be explored – through audience questions – by an expert who has already traveled the entrepreneurial road. In addition, you'll learn the results of a recent survey of independent public relations practitioners who reported on fees and charges, billings, how they spend their time and other business practice issues.

3 – 4 p.m.

Breakout Session 5B

The F-35 Program: Leveraging the Corporate Communications–PR Agency Relationship

Michael Rein, Director, F-35 Communications, Lockheed Martin

The F-35 Lightning II jet fighter program is the largest Department of Defense acquisition program in the history of the United States, valued at more than $380 billion. More than 3,000 jets are being built that will be flown by the U.S. Air Force, Marine Corps and Navy, and 10 foreign nations including Australia, Canada, Denmark, Israel, Italy, Japan, Norway, The Netherlands, Turkey and the United Kingdom. Managing the public relations requirements of such a vast program involving many different national governments and cultures is challenging. This presentation will discuss how Lockheed Martin synergizes the best of corporate communications and its domestic and international PR agencies to accomplish this task.

Sponsored in part by the Treasure Coast Chapter.

3 – 4 p.m.

Breakout Session 5C

Preparing for the CPRC Exam

Susan Ennis, APR, CPRC, VP Accreditation & Certification

Constructing the CEO Apology: What Works, What Doesn't and How to Tell the Difference

Rhonda Barnat, Managing Director, The Abernathy MacGregor Group

Today, everything is public. When an apology is called for – we expect our leaders to speak. More than ever, the apology is a critical vehicle for an individual CEO to send a message to employees, to customers, to investors and to the general public. We'll examine several CEO apologies – those that worked and those that backfired. We'll offer several principles to help public relations professionals in turn help their CEO determine when an apology is called for and how to make an apology as meaningful and appropriate as possible.

10:40 – 11:40 a.m.

Closing Session

Leadership is an Inside Job

David Griffin, Attorney, David Griffin Consulting

True, impactful leadership starts on the inside of the individual and happens at the intersection of preparation and opportunity. Leaders must believe, leaders must care and leaders must lead. When you can inspire others to dream, learn, do and become, you are a leader. Effective communication, through both word and deed, is the conduit for leadership.

11:40 a.m. – Noon

Conference Finale

Don't miss the drawing of two full conference registrations for the 2013 Annual Conference. You must be present to win.

Speaker Bios

General Session A – Achieving Peak Performance

Lou Heckler, based in Gainesville, Fla., is a motivational humorist and business speaker with more than 40 years experience in managing, motivating and directing others. He served on the adjunct faculty at the University of Michigan's Executive Education Center for 19 years. Heckler is a Certified Speaking Professional and was inducted into the National Speakers Association's Speaker Hall of Fame in 1992. In 2010, readers of "Meetings and Conventions" Magazine named him as one of their favorite keynote speakers. He annually gives dozens of speeches for corporations, trade associations and educational institutions. In addition, a portion of Lou's business each year is coaching other professional speakers. Before starting his own business in 1980, he spent 14 years in television in a variety of on-air and management positions.

Breakout 1A – 28 Steps to Socializing Your Online Newsroom

Steve Momorella, owner and founder, TEKGROUP International in Pompano Beach, Fla., has more than 17 years of direct Internet experience ranging from programming to high-level design and consulting for numerous large corporations including IBM, AOL and Ford Motor Company. Currently, he is responsible for the sales and marketing of TEKGROUP's Online Newsroom Solution, used by well-known brands including Toyota, Starbucks, Prudential, Walgreens, Sprint and many Fortune 500 companies. Momorella is co-authoring his first book, "The Incredible Online Newsroom," with Pete Codella to be published this year.

Breakout 1B – What Today's Employees Want from Workplace Communications

Ron Hess is president of Motiv8 Communications, a full-service employee communications consulting firm based in Port Orange, Fla., near Daytona Beach. Prior to establishing his own consulting firm a decade ago, Hess managed corporate employee communications at GE and at International Paper. He is a frequent speaker and writer on employee communication topics and shares best practices through his online column, "Ideas and Trends in Employee Communications." His clients include some of the nation's best-known companies and organizations. Hess' website is at www.motiv8comm.com.

Breakout 1C – Extreme Makeover Home Edition: The Big Reveal!

April Schroeder started Marketing Mud five years ago after deciding to return to the University of Florida to complete her undergraduate advertising degree. With 10 years of graphic design and sales experience under her belt, she had the idea of beginning a small business she could manage while completing her degree. This idea for a small promotional products company, Marketing Mud, took off in the first year. Schroeder provided logo-branded promotional items and customized design materials, and her small one-person business quickly expanded to eight employees to meet the needs of her growing client base. After completing her degree in 2009, the company grew into a full-service creative agency. In January 2012, Schroeder opened a new division, Liquid Creative Studio, www.LiquidCreativeStudio.com. Liquid Creative houses all agency service work: web design, digital and online marketing, graphic design, social media marketing, and advertising strategy and solutions. Liquid Creative is a leader in branding and integrating social media. Marketing Mud is now solely dedicated to the promotional product and ad-specialty industry, www.Marketingmud.com.

Breakout 2A – The Difference Industry: A place for fresh thinking, growing investments, and work that matters

Ann Christiano is the Frank and Betsy Karel Endowed Chair in Public Interest Communications and a Professor at the University of Florida, Department of Public Relations. Prior to her current position, Christiano most recently directed communications for The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation's Vulnerable Populations portfolio. This portfolio creates new opportunities for better health by investing in health where it starts and grows—in our homes, schools and jobs. The social innovations the portfolio supports work in the domains of education, housing or corrections, but always address health needs of people who are vulnerable. As part of her work, Christiano oversaw communications strategies for programs like the Greenhouse project, which is a radical reinvention of the traditional long-term care model, and CeaseFire, which uses a public health approach to reduce gun violence in America's most violent neighborhoods. Earlier in her career at the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation she developed a robust government relations program that helped foundation grantees build productive relationships with elected officials and significantly increased the foundation's profile among Washington policymakers. She has also worked with the Washington Business Group on Health.

Breakout 2B – Using Social Media to Connect with Employees

Kathy Barbour, APR, is a public affairs manager at the Mayo Clinic in Jacksonville, Fla. Her experience ranges from executive communications and strategic employee communications to media relations, crisis and issues management, and marketing. Barbour has worked with CEOs and senior management teams in enhancing culture and effective two-way communication to assist executives in improving their communication skills and in supporting organizational goals and objectives. She also is a member of the executive team for Mayo Clinic's Center for Social Media. She's on Twitter @KathyBarbour.

Breakout 2C – Crisis Diagnostics: Assessing Brand Damage. Restoring Brand Equity

James R. Gregory is founder and CEO of CoreBrand, a global brand strategy and communications firm based in New York, with offices in Minneapolis and Los Angeles. With 30 years of experience in advertising and branding, Gregory is a leading expert on brand management and is credited with developing strategies for measuring the power of brands and their impact on a corporation's potential financial performance. Most notable of the tools that Gregory has developed is the Corporate Branding Index, a quantitative research vehicle that has continuously tracked since 1990 the reputations and financial performances of more than 1,000 publicly traded companies across 49 industries. CoreBrand uses the index to help clients recognize how their brands compare with industry peers and how communications can impact corporate reputation and financial performance, which includes stock price and revenue growth. Visit www.corebrand.com for more information.

General Session B – PR is a Contact Sport

Jim Joseph serves as the President of Cohn & Wolfe North America, the agency's largest region. With more than 25 years of integrated marketing, public relations and branding experience, Joseph provides strategic oversight, client service and drives new business across all offices in the U.S., Canada and Mexico. He has created seamless brand experiences for clients such as Kellogg's, Kraft, Ikea, Cadillac, Tylenol, Johnson & Johnson, Clean & Clear, American Express and Wal-Mart. Known for his expertise in brand and integrated marketing, Joseph's first book - "The Experience Effect" - delivered a critically acclaimed, straightforward volume of marketing advice that showed big business how to build the ultimate brand experience. Now, in his soon-to-be-released second book, he takes that big brand theory and applies it to the backbone of the American economy, small business, in "The Experience Effect for Small Business."

Dillin Keynote Address – Closing the Perception Gap

Oscar Suris is the head of corporate communications and an executive vice president of Wells Fargo & Company in San Francisco. Suris joined Wells Fargo from Ford Motor Company where he served most recently as director of corporate communications and development. Most recently at Ford, Suris was strategic communications lead for Executive Chairman Bill Ford and the automaker's philanthropic arm, Ford Motor Company Fund and Community Services. He previously led Ford's global corporate news and North American product communications teams. Prior to Ford, he was director of corporate communications at AutoNation Inc., America's largest automotive retailer, and was a staff writer for five years at The Wall Street Journal.

Breakout 3A – Grassroots Public Relations: Building Support, One Blade at a Time

Joseph S. Hice, Jr., APR, CPRC, MA, MBA, is vice president of public relations & marketing at the Moffitt Cancer Center in Tampa, Fla. Moffitt is the third-largest cancer center in the nation and is the only Florida-based member of the National Cancer Institute's Comprehensive Cancer Centers. Hice is responsible for public relations, marketing, advertising and employee communications activities at Moffitt. He also directs the institution's news bureau, conference planning and institutional advocacy efforts. He is currently leading Moffitt through the introduction of a new branding theme, "Closer to our patients. Closer to a cure." Hice joined Moffitt from North Carolina State University in Raleigh, N.C., where he was chief communications officer and associate vice chancellor. Prior to NC State, Hice was associate vice president of University Relations at the University of Florida where he led the development of "The Gator Nation" campaign. Before joining UF, he had a long career with some of the nation's most respected and well-known recreational product brands including Harley-Davidson, Segway, Sea-Doo Watercraft and others.

Breakout 3C – Advertising. Making the Fun Last

Operating as Markalyst in Daytona Beach, Fla., Steve Smith is an enterprise growth advisor. Prior to Markalyst, he worked at Enterprise Holdings Inc. where, as vice president and chief marketing officer, Smith was responsible for marketing strategies and tactics for the company's brands throughout the Americas and Europe. During his decades at Enterprise Holdings, Smith provided the company with the innovative thinking and leadership that took Enterprise Rent-A-Car, the company's crown jewel, from a little-known brand to one of the most recognized in North America and Europe.

General Session C – Storytelling, Media Relations, Reputation; Putting it All Together for Your Brand

Mickey Nall, APR, Fellow PRSA, is managing director of Ogilvy Public Relations Worldwide and is a member of Ogilvy PR's global management committee. He has developed communications programs for United Way of America; U.S. Centers for Disease Control & Prevention; Coca-Cola and General Electric. Nall has a master's degree in Journalism and Communications from the University of Florida. He was FPRA President in 1989 and is the 2013 Chairman & CEO of the Public Relations Society of America. Nall and his wife Janice live in Atlanta.

Breakout Session 4A – Who shows up when you show up? Presentation Is Everything

After a 30-year career in television news, Annetta Wilson now helps people "put their best foot forward, not in their mouths." She is president of Annetta Wilson Media Training & Success Coaching located in the Orlando, Fla., area. Wilson is a business strategist specializing in presentation skills training, communication skills coaching and media training for executives, entrepreneurs and subject-matter experts. She also coaches individuals on personal and work-related communication issues. A Certified Mastery Coach and Certified Trainer, she has coached on-air journalists at CNN, coached for Walt Disney World's Ambassador Program, trained executives at AAA, Tupperware Brands and others, and trained physicians at Orlando Health. An award-winning journalist, Wilson worked in the broadcast industry as a television news anchor, reporter, producer, talk show host and writer. She holds the distinction of being the first African-American weekday evening news anchor in Central Florida. Her work placed her in the top 20 on the "Golden 50," a list of broadcasters whose work made a significant impact in Central Florida (Source: RogerSimmons.com).

Breakout Session 4B – Get Attention for You, Your Company and Your Events

For 25 years, Shari Lynn Rothstein-Kramer has been on staff and/or freelancing for various magazines in Manhattan, N.Y., and throughout Florida. After serving as editorial director of BIZBASH Florida, an event industry magazine and website, she opened SLK Creative, a North Miami Beach-based PR, marketing, branding and imaging agency that specializes in the special events and hospitality industries. She not only does intensive media outreach for multiple companies that create special events, but also creates and manages their brands and personal images – in real life and online. Rothstein-Kramer travels nationwide giving seminars on public relations, marketing, branding, special events, relationship building, how to write winning award submissions, social media and much more.

Breakout Session 4C – Foundations for Good Measurement

Patrick O'Donnell is a Senior Project Manager with the Ketchum Global Research & Analytics working in the Chicago office. He has been with Ketchum since 2006, where he started at the company headquarters in New York. O'Donnell has extensive experience in both primary and secondary research. He has specialized in survey writing, including corporate reputation measurement, campaign analysis and surveys for publicity. He has assisted clients and account teams with online and traditional media measurement, crisis monitoring, goal-setting and program measurement. He has strong interest in social media measurement. Specific project work ranges from helping Dow Chemical measure its reputation across the world among influencer groups to analyzing media coverage for Nokia that has been used to develop key messaging. Surveys O'Donnell has written and analyzed have helped clients such as ConAgra Foods, Walgreens and Adecco receive coverage in top-tier media outlets. He has recently assisted clients such as Wrigley and Cadence Health standardizing an approach to research and measurement.

Breakout Session 5A – Meeting the Challenge: Employee to Employer!

Joseph J. Curley, APR, CPRC has practiced public relations in Florida for more than 35 years and is now semi-retired. He was the co-founder and president of one of Florida's largest PR firms, Curley & Pynn Public Relations Management in Orlando, which he sold in 2004. Currently a public relations and marketing consultant at his own firm Stingray Solutions Inc., Curley is retained by Universal Studios Parks & Resorts as senior corporate communications counsel, international marketing & PR. He is directly involved in theme park projects in Singapore, Dubai and South Korea. He recently served for six years on the Communications and Public Relations Advisory Board for the University of Florida, which he co-chaired for two years. He is a past national president of the Public Relations Society of America Foundation, and a past state president of the Florida Public Relations Association. In 1993, 2005 and 2009 he was honored with FPRA's highest statewide awards for outstanding professional leadership. He is a graduate of the Executive Management Program at Rollins College Graduate School of Business. In 2009, Curley was one of two alumni inducted into the Evergreen Park Community (Chicago) High School Hall of Fame.

Breakout Session 5B – The F-35 Program: Leveraging the Corporate Communications – PR Agency Relationship

Michael J. "Mike" Rein serves as director, F-35 Program Communications for Lockheed Martin Aeronautics, located in Fort Worth, Texas. In this position since March 2011, he leads a staff of eight and is responsible for all communications activities associated with Lockheed Martin's F-35 Joint Strike Fighter Program. The U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine Corps, along with international partners, have combined efforts to produce a low-cost, technologically advanced jet fighter – the F-35 Lightning II. The multi-role, supersonic F-35 meets the requirements of all services with enhanced lethality and survivability, and reduced vulnerability. Prior to joining Lockheed Martin, Rein held the position of communications and customer relations manager for United Launch Alliance, a Lockheed Martin – Boeing Company joint venture, at Cape Canaveral Air Force Station, Fla.

Breakout 5C – Preparing for the CPRC Exam

Susan Ennis, APR, CPRC, president and founder of EnSpire Communication Consultants in Orlando, Fla., is Accredited in Public Relations and a Certified Public Relations Counselor. General Session D – Constructing the CEO Apology: What Works, What Doesn't and How to Tell the Difference

Rhonda Barnat is a managing director with The Abernathy MacGregor Group in New York. She is one of the country's leading crisis counselors, providing strategic advice to senior management in highly complex and sensitive crises. She is often called upon at defining moments in a company's or institution's history. Barnat, along with other firm members, appears on the short-list of selected crisis counselors pre-approved by major insurance companies for major crises of all kinds. Her clients cover the full spectrum of industries, including financial services, healthcare and manufacturing, as well as not-for-profit organizations and other institutions. She has published articles in numerous publications, including The New York Times, The Washington Post and The Detroit Free Press.

Closing Session – Leadership is an Inside Job

David Griffin is a licensed attorney and has operated his own consulting firm in Tallahassee, Fla., since 2003. Prior to starting David Griffin Consulting, he held positions in athletic, public and private enterprises. In 1999 Griffin was appointed Secretary of the Florida Lottery by Gov. Jeb Bush and led the operation, management and revenue performance of the agency. During his tenure, the lottery achieved four consecutive years of record-setting profits and the lottery's operating budget was reduced by 8.5 percent to $126.5 million while revenues increased from $2 billion to $2.8 billion. Griffin's other positions include assistant executive director of the Ohio Lottery Commission, labor relations manager for Bailey Controls Company and MRI marketing manager for King's Medical. He also played one season of professional basketball in France.
