Home-style for the Holidays

If you're in the food industry, you're not allowed to use the word 'homemade' in your advertising because you're not allowed to cook food in your home, well duh!

But what I can tell you is that the recipes used to prepare your food are the same ones we use at home, so ha!

With that said, why should you slave in the kitchen (unless you want to) for a home cooked meal when you can take the credit without all the work?

All food will be delivered in disposal pans which means easy clean-up for you. How satisfying to carve slow smoked meat that cooked for hours but only took you minutes to order. The smell of brown sugar, cinnamon and butter wafting from the candied yams. If you beg a little Mrs. Mista may make you some mac & cheese.

So instead of missing the fun and adding stress to your day, call us and go have some fun.
