SecureNutrition has partnered with GAIN and Save the Children to create Harvesting Nutrition, a contest which aims to showcase projects from around the globe that have bridged gaps between agriculture, food security, and nutrition.

The Harvesting Nutrition contest aims to answer questions in the following areas:

- What field-based examples of the linkages between agriculture, food security and nutrition are currently being tested?
- What has been done operationally to bring agriculture, food security, and nutrition programs and policies closer for improved outcomes?
- What are the principal challenges of integrating a nutrition sensitive approach in adjustments to agriculture and food security programs and activities in each of these sectors, and how were they overcome?

To encourage a wide cross section of program experiences, Harvesting Nutrition will offer three awards of $5000 each and a multimedia documentation of the winners in each of three categories: Most Scalable Approach, Greatest Impact on Nutrition, and Most Innovative Approach.

Submissions will be accepted from 8 June 2013, through September 15th, 2013. A judging panel will review submissions for the awards and prizes will be announced in November of 2013.
