ARC was founded in 1973. The ARC Summer Intensives, which began in 1985, are based on Dr. Joyce Maguire Pavao's Normative Crises in the Development of the Adoptive Family framework, her years of clinical experience, and her consulting and training expertise. The Intensives utilize family systems theory, which is the basis of Dr. Pavao's work.

Cambridge-based AACT and PCC was begun in March of 2012 but the programs have existed and ARC has been around since 1973. PCC has a New York presence as well. PCC and AACT provides training, education, advocacy, and counseling for individuals and families touched by adoption, foster care, kinship care, guardianship, and all other forms of complex blended families. Presented by:
Adoption Resource Center (ARC) and Riverside
After Adoption Consulting and Training (AACT)

At this year's ARC Summer Intensives, we will take a look at the aspects of adoption that involve the 'meeting of the minds' of many professionals, agencies, countries, and counties.

As ever, ARC will use narrative therapy, digital stories, performance, and movies to discuss the many emotional and psychological elements that can make adoption both a challenge and a joy for all involved and how the hard work of people who have been pioneers and change agents have made a difference for all of the Family of Adoption.

These ARC trainings are called "the intensives" because we work and think very hard about what is needed in families associated with adoption and other complex blended families. They are intense but in a gentle setting!
