By Elizabeth Montesano

Tragically, there are times when no one is reading the fetal heart monitor and a delivery is not performed before a baby is permanently harmed. The round the clock care for a brain damaged baby is astronomical. In these situations, parents may enforce their child's rights by bringing a lawsuit against the negligent medical professionals for compensation for their child's pain, suffering and the extraordinary medical care costs associated with all the treatments, medications and therapies these injured children require.

This law office continues to represent families with children who have suffered needless birth injuries due to medical negligence. Sullivan Papain Block McGrath & Cannavo P.C., has successfully achieved numerous multi-million dollar settlements and verdicts on behalf of their clients injured due to birth related brain damage.
