Saints' Alive

September 2013

Donna and I are very happy to be here at All Saints'. Many thanks for the wonderful welcome on August 11th, and to Brooke White and her great crew for the lovely reception. We learned very quickly that All Saints' has great cooks. Thanks to everyone who brought food and helped to make the event a lovely one.

As we mentioned in our tag-team sermon on the 11th, interim time is a time of transition and change. It is also a time for important work to be done as you move into your future at All Saints'.

It important to bring closure to pastor Scherry's tenure at All Saints', to celebrate the years that she invested in your faith community, and to acknowledge the gifts that she brought to your parish.

The main task of the interim time is to prepare the way for your next rector. Anyone with a farm background, or who is an active gardener, knows that adequate preparation of the soil to receive the new seed or plant is a critical step to obtain healthy and productive results.

Preparing the soil for a new crop involves removing any weeds that would crowd out the new crop and keep it from fully developing. Tilling the soil is important so that the new plant can easily extend its roots into the prepared ground. Another vital step is to strengthen the soil so that the new plant has the nutrition it needs to produce lovely blooms or healthy produce.

The same is true during this interim time as your prepare for your next rector of All Saints'. You will want your next rector to come to a healthy and energized congregation, to form a healthy and meaningful relationship with you so that your many ministries at All Saints' will flourish, and continue to be a witness to Christ's love and care to the Morristown community and beyond.

The first step involves building on the many strengths that you have at All Saints'. Donna and I are impressed with the presence that All Saints' has in your community, particularly by the involvement and leadership that members of All Saints' provide in various community organizations. That is a true sign of discipleship.

The next step in preparing for your next rector is to deal with the inevitable weeds that are a natural part of any garden, or the old and ongoing issues of any organization such as a church. Left untended, "weeds" can sap the energy and weaken the health of a church, and sabotage its mission by preventing it from fully living into the dream or vision that God has for them.

If you haven't figured it out by now, the soil has been "disturbed" by dealing with the weeds. As someone remarked following our tag-team sermon, "You mean we have to lift up the rug and pull out all those things that we swept under it?" And the answer is yes, if you want to have a successful and productive ministry at All Saints'.

Donna and I plan to have fun during our tenure at All Saints', while we all work together to weed, till, and strengthen the ground for your next rector to arrive, and for your many ministries at All Saints' to flourish and grow.

Glory to God whose power, working in us, can do infinitely more than we can ask or imagine; Glory to him from generation to generation in the Church, and in Christ Jesus for ever and ever. Amen Ephesians 3: 20,21

Faithfully,
Ken+ and Donna+ Brown

The summer is winding down [According to my friend Jim Gose the DOG Days are over, however I never saw a dog] but our Church is really moving forward at flank speed. People are coming back from vacations. Kids back in school. Our young adults heading back to their dorms with a U-Haul load of STUFF. Sunday Pews are filling up and we have officially welcomed our Interims- the Revs. Brown. If you haven't met Ken and Donna yet, you are in for a real treat.

Programing at the Church is getting ready for a new active year. Last Saturday we journeyed down to Knoxville to listen to a new approach to Stewardship. While it was not "spot on" for our congregation, I think our Youth Group may want to carry it forward. Speaking of Stewardship, the first part is not "how much money is in your pocket?", but rather how much and how many of your talents will you offer in Service to God? John [the Energizer Bunny] Hutchins is putting together Rally Day. If you are not going to be in Church on September 19th, get a copy of the Talent Offerings form [they will be on the side board in the Narthex], fill it out and begin your Service to your Church and our Creator.

The Wisemen, ECW, and Foyers have passed those hazy, lazy [you have got to be kidding] days of summer and are looking for new activities and members. There are people in those pews on Sunday who don't know your name [most of the time it is because you don't know theirs']. This Sunday, step into the Parish Hall and find a person who you don't know [or you haven't spoken to lately] and start a conversation. When you are finished repeat their name in your head, where you were standing and one thing you talked about. That person is now part of your memory bank [unless you have a mind like a Foley Food Mill on top of a 73yr- old-body 'like mine']. Remember our Mission Statement? "We are a family...." i.e. Do you know whose Grand name is "Gobbie?"

We are also in the process of searching for new Vestry Members. Special talents for upcoming positions are: Youth, Adult Christian Formation, Finance and Building & Grounds [aka Jr. Warden]. If you or someone who you think would be suited for one of these areas let me or Sarah Gose [Administrative committee- whose job is to field a suitable list of candidates] know your thoughts. We are also putting together our budget for next year [was that a sneaky way of getting back to the question of "how much money is in your pocket?"] If your committee needs more [or less] funds for next year's programing, please let your Vestry representative know. If you would like to institute a new program, figure out a planned expenditure budget and discuss it with the Vestry person [or me] who would most likely oversee such a program.

We are continuing our search for a new Rector. With the Browns' in place your Vestry can turn their attention to this process. While it seems like we have been sitting on our hands, I can assure you that it is far from correct. We will "Git er' done".

Peace,

Pete Balling, Vestry Position- Sr. Warden, 423-736-1464

Are you interested?

The question has come up on whether or not to reinstitute the Wednesday evening Eucharist and/or the Thursday morning Bible study. I am checking to know if there is enough interest to warrant restarting either or both of these program. If you are interested, please let Fr. Brown know, and indicate what time works best for you.

Hello All Saints' Family,

Here we are at the end of the summer rest and activities and the time to shift gears to the fresh start of the fall season is now!

As you read this, the Adult Spiritual Formation Committee will have already met to plan for new ways and areas of learning to broaden and deepen the worship of our Lord and our life experiences, and you will have already attended our first Adult Forum on August 25th.

This is your invitation to continue to join us in the Parish Hall at 9:15 am Sunday mornings for learning, sharing and connecting with our All Saints' brothers and sisters, and any friends you will bring along to experience the love of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Peace and Love! See you there!

Kenny Zitt, Vestry Member: Adult Spiritual Formation

The Outreach Committee supported Food on Foot with their project to provide backpacks full of school supplies for the needy children whose parents had registered asking for help. These same children were lined up, some for as long as four hours, on the morning set aside for pickups at the Food on Foot site located on Berkline Drive.

I made three separate trips before the pickup date to deliver school supplies donated by our church members. We would like to thank all of those who helped us out with this worthwhile project. This will probably be something we will continue to support as it is an ongoing program that is especially active during the school year.

Rally Day is coming up on September 15th and we are making plans to participate, so be sure to come by and see us and hopefully sign up to help us out next year.

Ginger Goolsby

Liaison to the Vestry for Outreach

We will have our outdoor service September 8 on our Stephanie Lynn Warren playground for the 10: 30 service.

[The 8:00 service will be as usual.]

The church will furnish drinks, paper goods and utensils for the picnic to follow after the service please

- ◆ Bring a chair or ground blanket
- ◆ bring a covered dish or two to share
- ◆ Sunscreen & an open heart!
- ◆ Hope to see you there!

Brooke White, Vestry Liaison, Parish Life

YOUTH GROUP SCOOP

We are gearing up for the new church year. With Sunday school starting August 25 with Making it Real and Relevant curriculum. September 15 is Rally Day and the youth will be kicking off with their first fundraiser for their Mission trip to DC in July 2014 with a Walk-a-Thon. Be sure to check it out on Rally Day! October 6 is Youth Sunday we need youth to help with the 10:30 service. If you are interested in being a reader, usher, greeter or whatever let Judy Yates or myself know.

The iDYG group is coming along great. The youth enjoyed an afternoon at Panther Creek Park swimming, playing volleyball, basketball and corn hole along with a cook out despite the rain! September event is still being finalized. Be sure to check out ASEC youth group and/or iDYG Facebook page.

Kathy Haun, Youth Group Vestry Liaison

Youth Group Fundraiser Walk-a-Thon

The youth group is kicking it into high gear with a fundraiser for their Mission Trip 2014 to help feed the homeless in Washington DC. Be sure to stop by and check out how you can help show your support and sponsor them on Rally Day September 15th!

Children of ASEC, Don't Miss out!

Sunday, August 25

Sunday School and Choir

Grades: K - 8

9:15 am Choir

9:30 am Sunday School

Join us for Music, Donuts, Games, Bible Lessons and other fun activities

as we learn about God's Word and fellowship with each other!

The SUNDAY SCHOOL will begin August 25 in the large room in the Undercroft! Grades 2-8 will meet there with two of our outstanding leaders. Susan Garber, leading the classes, is already preparing with the assistance of Stacey Kesterson, Julie Stansberry, Melissa Weaver and Jason Dockery. WEAVING GOD'S PROMISES teaches our children the way of Christ, not only in the church but also in the world, and gives them a solid grounding for the future.

Youth Choir will once again meet @ 9:15 in the Choir Room (109), for 15 minutes each Sunday. New this year is the invitation for all K-8th graders to be a part of this special ministry.

Our GODLY PLAY will too begin on August 25 in their room for our children in K-2. Betsy Dobbins and her team, Raymond Lowry, Martha Simerl, Toni Dosil, Stephanie Godin and Russ Mattocks, are anxious to share God's presence in their lives with parable, sacred story, silence and liturgical action.

CHILDREN'S CHAPEL will also begin on August 25. The children will again follow the Crucifer, who also assists in the Chapel Service, out during the service. The children really enjoy their special time with our wonderful leaders, Bonnie Vick, Darby Taylor, Lauren Cordle and Martie Anderson! The children will continue to enjoying our new lectionary based program!

DATES TO REMEMBER

ONE LAST REQUEST!

If you would like to organize our Children's Reference Library please let Judy Yates, Kathy Haun or Lynne Ann know. No special talent required, just know your alphabet and have an idea as to how to organize by subject! AND...you can do it on your own time!

Thanks for your consideration!!!

We are doing a survey for those who attend the 8:00 o'clock Sunday Service. If having the nursery available would benefit you, please let me know by email: maudiebriggs@me.com or phone: 423-312-0024. Thanks, Maudie Briggs

Inviting (Not Welcoming) in Bite-Sized Chunks. Pt. 3 by Rob Moss

Let's face it, change is hard. Most of us resist it, grudgingly accepting its reality only when it is forced upon us. Partly this is true because change is scary, and partly because it forces us to acknowledge we can't always control it (well, actually, that's scary too). So I guess when you come down to it, change is frightening. Is it any wonder, then, that we generally resist stepping way outside our comfort zone and established pattern of behavior to invite a friend to come to worship? This is terrifying! We are all afraid a) that our friend will laugh us out of the room, b) that they will tell all their friends that we're narrow-minded, judgmental, hypocritical Bible-thumpers, or c) that they might actually come. Then what?

[Mother Donna told me the other day that there is a statistic out there that Episcopalians invite someone to church once every 27 years! We gotta improve those numbers! – Cindy Selby]

You know the old joke, "Q: How do you eat an elephant? A: One bite at a time." OK, it's corny, but it is true. The same strategy holds true for inviting. It's just too much for most people to risk or try. So how about breaking it down into bite-size chunks that people actually can do? Here's the way we're doing it in my congregation. See if something along these lines might work for you.

Month 1: We ask people to use the phrase "my church" in a conversation with one person each week. Really simple. "Just go two blocks past my church and you'll see the grocery store." "No, I can't go camping this weekend; I've already made plans to be at my church." "Yes, I saw the sunset last night. The view from my church was amazing!" Just one person, one time each week during the month. Make up scenarios and practice with each other before worship on Sundays.

We purchased some promotional items with our church logo on them to aid in these conversations. Cloth grocery totes, string packs, water bottles, etc. Things that people will have with them in public. They aren't all that expensive and you can pretty easily recoup the expense by selling them to your members at a reasonable price. So when you go to the bank, the bank teller may well ask, "What a handy back pack. Where'd you get that?" And we would answer, "I got this at (all together, now) my church."

Month 2: We ask people to consider one word or phrase that describes our church well. Then use that word to finish the phrase, "my church is ____." Again, do this in conversation with one person per week during the month. "My church is struggling with that very issue." "School violence? My church is hosting a forum about that next month." "That's a hard situation. I've found my church is very supportive in difficult times."

When we are watching for opportunities to do these quick, relatively small steps toward invitation, it's amazing how many opportunities there suddenly are to take them. Share your stories with each other of your experiences. You could even award prizes for the funniest, the most awkward, the most creative, etc. Make this fun, but keep it in front of you..

Month 3: We ask people to think about one thing our congregation does very well. Perhaps it's children's ministry, education, music, social activism, or making the parking lot available for ride-sharing. Then use that to finish the phrase, "My church is really good at ____." Again, one time per week to one person in a conversation. By now, some of you will be getting the hang of this. A few of you might even be eager! Roll with it; that enthusiasm can become contagious. Practice on each other and share your impressions of what your church is good at.

Month 4: We ask people to invite one person to check out something in which our church is involved. "Check out our volunteer day at the food pantry." "Check out my church's Alcoholics Anonymous Group." "Check out the hiking trip my church is sponsoring." This is all done in appropriate conversations when an opening presents itself. Keep in mind the organic nature of these statements; they shouldn't be forced or manipulated. By this time, you will be actually seeing appropriate openings and will be better able to bring up your church in a way that is natural and not off-putting.

Month 5: We ask people to invite someone to come to worship with them. This seems to be the most frightening invitation for many to make. But when broken into bite-size pieces, it can be attained. Worship attendance isn't necessarily the most important invitation, but it seems to be the hardest—leaving people feeling the most vulnerable. So we include it. If folks can invite to worship, they can make appropriate invitations to pretty much anything. [If you make yourselves always aware of the upcoming Scripture readings (published in the emailed rotas every week) and of coming events at ASES, even if you don't plan to participate yourself, you will have lots of easy opportunities to invite. If you meet a teenager, invite them to check out our Youth Group, e.g., or if you meet a new neighbor with young children, invite them to check out our Sunday School classes, All Saints' Episcopal School, or an upcoming children's event.]

Now the question becomes, "When we start inviting others to worship, how will these people be received? Will it be worth their time?" [This question will be explored in Part 4 of this series, which will be available at the Evangelism Table in the Parish Hall on Rally Day (September 15).]

Altar & Chapel Flowers

Many of you have told me how much the arrangements for the altar and chapel and the narthex have added to your Sunday morning worship experience. We are grateful for the talents of Bobby and David who are responsible for the work to do this and for those of you who have contributed flowers from your gardens.

But we have run into a bit of a briar patch. Please check the flower chart in the parish hall for a blank space and sign up for either altar flowers or chapel flowers. Contributions ($50 and $30) have fallen behind this summer.

Call Lynne Ann at 586-6201 or me at 586-6564 with any questions. Thank you so much for your help with the beautiful offerings we all enjoy. What a great way to remember or honor someone or something special.

Barbara Garrett
Chairman

Proud All Saints' Grandparents welcome babes!!!!

Susie & Roberts Justice announce the birth of their second grandchild, Early Catherine Montgomery born July 19 to their daughter, Rebekah, & husband, Todd!

Give thanks!!!!

October 10, 11, 12!

The BBQ is upon us!

Sign up sheets go up soon.

Please sign up early and often! Please keep in mind we are looking for some people to learn key jobs.

There will be a list for those as well!

The 2013-2014 school year opened auspiciously on Friday, August 9th. In addition to the migration of our 4 Year Olds, or Pre-Kindergarteners, to the main building we are welcoming several new faculty and staff members. Mr. Frankie Long is teaching language arts in our Middle School Division—the post formerly held by the fabulous and formidable Mrs. Betty Golden. Mr. Long, who holds both his bachelor's and master's degrees from Carson-Newman, did some of his student teaching with us last year. Originally from Strawberry Plains, Mr. Long is an East Tennessee native and, so far, a favorite of the middle school students. Mrs. Kelley Korody was called to Newport to teach this year and, while we will miss having her and her family among us every day, we keep them in our prayers. Mrs. Lynn Heinz joined our faculty seemingly seamlessly in the fifth grade position. She had her student and practicum teaching experiences at Alpha, Russellville, West, and Union Heights. A graduate of both Walters State and Tusculum, Mrs. Heinz received her teaching license and endorsement nearly two years ago. She has served as a long-term substitute in many area schools, but loves the fifth grade best!

We have several new and returning faces in the Early Learning Center. Mrs. Audrey Morrisett has taken the helm as ELC Director. Consequently, Mrs. Heidi Sexton has been promoted to lead instructor of the Two Year Old classroom. Assisting her is Tiana Green, mother of Kindergartener, Garrett. Nicole Strumski, a former ELC parent and Hamblen County substitute teacher, has joined Mrs. Debbie Young and Mrs. Roxie Taylor as the assistant for Pre-Kindergarten. And finally, we are welcoming Mrs. Treasure Phillips to the front office. Treasure, husband, James, and son, Levi (1st Grade) came to us last year after relocating to Jefferson City. Quickly becoming a reliable parent volunteer, Mrs. Phillips had several advocates among both the staff and parent body prior to her interview for the position. As it was revealed she has just the experience and temperament for this multi-dimensional job. Not to mention that Levi gets quite a thrill from occasionally doing his homework in the front office!

Saturday, November 16 Please mark your calendars for our 2013 Evening Among Friends. This year, we are holding our auction at the Maple Valley Campus and combining the most enjoyable aspects of both our auction and our Fall Ball. Attendees this year will not only have the opportunity to bid on a vast array of items, but will also have a full dinner, open bar and a dance floor for those of us who want to waltz, swing, or electric slide. Invitations will be sent in October, but all are welcome to purchase tickets by calling the front office.

To ensure you receive a formal invitation to the Evening Among Friends, or if you would like to receive our weekly eNewsletter, The Eagle Country Chronicle, send an email to Laura Jo (Anderson) Mogren: lmogren@allsaintsepiscopal.org.

We are all excited about the installation of Interim Rector, Rev. Ken Brown, and Interim Associate Rector, Rev. Donna Brown. We look forward to introducing them to our school and sharing special chapel services as they are available. We continue to hold All Saints' parishioners and search committees in our prayers as you proceed to find a more permanent leader.

ALL SAINTS' WALKERS ASSISTING ALPS

Once again, our church family has come together for a great cause, and helped to make a difference for a truly special, local nonprofit agency. Early Saturday morning, July 27, All Saints fielded a lively, energetic team to walk in the 22nd Annual ALPS "Walk To Remember". Not only were we the only organized church team, but we were 4th-place winners, eventually raising $1,755! Every penny of that amount stays at ALPS in Morristown, where caregiving families of adult loved ones in a 6-county area depend on ALPS for fantastic adult day care. Thanks to everyone who donated, walked, and/or prayed for those who did! Special thanks go to Father Ken, who hit the alarm button early and drove to Morristown for the Walk, and also to Susan Fuhr, who assisted greatly with this year's team. Blessings to each of you.

Cookie Larkin, Marketing Director, ALPS

FALL RALLY DAY IS SUNDAY SEPTEMBER 15th!

This is your time to reconnect with the workings of our Parish. All the committees will have their tables set up in the parish hall between the 8am and 10:30 Eucharist and after the 10:30 Eucharist. I have already begun to hear some of the exciting activities. Please plan on visiting all committee tables and ask any questions you may have for them. Be thinking how you can serve our parish to make it spiritually stronger!

Looking forward to seeing you there, John Hutchins
